STATE OF WISCONSIN.

A PROCLAMATION

BY THE GOVERNOR.

In conformity with law, I, William D. Hoard, Governor of the State of Wisconsin, do designate

Wednesday, April 30th Next,

as Arbor Day, and recommend that all public schools and colleges of the state observe the same by suitable exercises, "having for their object the imparting of knowledge of horticulture, in the department known as arboriculture, and the adornment of schools and public grounds."

It is testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand, and caused the great seal of the state of Wisconsin to be affixed, Done at the capitol, in the city of Madison, this 15th day of March, A. D. 1890.

WILLIAM D. HOARD.

By the Governor: ERNEST G. TYLER, Secretary of State.

"FIFTH AVENUE AND CHERRY HILL."

Ten days ago the New York World did a piece of statistical work which attracted general attention, and which was a powerful sermon. Fifth avenue in New York is an avenue of palaces—inhabited, of course, by the rich—the report says by the "American rich."

This is the home of many of the famous, or notorious, four hundred, Cherry Hill is built of tenement houses. It is the humble abode of the poor. What the World wanted to get at was the question of births in these two widely different localities in New York city—which did not replenish the city with native born inhabitants. In vital statistics, the matter is full of interest. The World took 300 families on Fifth avenue, and here is the result:

Total number of children under 10 years of age.....91

Total number of children born within twelve months.....6

Then it took 300 families on Cherry Hill, and the result was as follows:

Total number of children under 10 years of age.....650

Total number of children born within twelve months.....111

The World was very discrete and careful in gathering these striking statistics, and they are all the more important because to guard against the possibility of being charged with false reporting, it gives the names of the families; to guard against the possibility of being charged with selecting its families in order to point a moral, it gives the street numbers, which, with occasional exceptions, are continuous in both cases.

What are the significance of these figures? Well, to use the words of one who has given them much study—words that are not without their force and meaning—the following is an answer: "There are great political changes, and possibly an industrial and social revolution, hinted at in these statistics. The immigration at the cradle is far more threatening to the existing order than the immigration at Castle Garden, and it is not so easily checked. Head money cannot be collected at the cradle, and Pharaoh's method of getting rid of a surplus population would hardly commend itself to even the most conservative reactionary of modern times. This cradle immigration threatens to swamp the white race in the south, and to overthrow the dominance of the wealthy and cultured classes in the great cities of the north. The tendency to relative childlessness in what are termed the upper classes is difficult to reconcile with the abominable doctrine of the survival of the fittest, unless, indeed, the "upper classes" are not the fittest, a suggestion which history makes at least thinkable. This tendency also suggests education and culture as a cure for that danger of over-population which Malthus thought was sure sooner or later to bring irretrievable disaster on the human race. It would appear that these conditions which are most favorable to the highest and best forms of life are not favorable to the greatest progeny. Fifth avenue will have to provide better homes for Cherry Hill, or the Fifth avenue of the future will be servant to the Cherry Hill of the future."

NEVER MOVE BACKWARD.

There comes from Des Moines, Iowa, a press report that there will be a convention of anti prohibition republicans in that state on the 2nd of April to consider the question of presenting to the legislature of that state a new temperance bill which shall do away with the present prohibition amendment. The report goes on to say that the gentlemen having in charge the local option bill prepared by the democratic caucus have arranged not to precipitate a discussion of the measure in either house until about the time of the meeting of this convention. A large number of petitions have been received signed by about 25,000 citizens, a large number of whom are women, asking that the present law be repealed. There have also been quite a number of petitions asking the enactment of local option. Among the latter, the most notable was a petition from Jones county containing 805 signatures, of which 642 were voters, 6 of them being ministers and 181 women.

It is claimed that these anti-prohibition republicans will join the democratic local option forces in demanding a new law. Just how far this republican opposition to the present law extends, cannot be definitely ascertained, but the strength of the movement is placed at from 3,000 to 5,000. It would hardly seem possible that these 3,000 or 5,000 are in a condition to dictate the temperance policy of Iowa. It is more untimely and arrogant than one juryman assuming to dictate the verdict of eleven men.

The thought that should be uppermost in the minds of the people, especially in political leaders, is to do the best thing possible for the cause of temperance and morality. Public sentiment is rarely ever wrong. The great mass of American people—the intelligent sober-minded and progressive sort—never quibble on a great question; and in Iowa to-day, notwithstanding the unfortunate results of last fall, the great mass of people, especially of the republicans, are for the enforcement of the present law.

It is true, as was said in the Gazette the other day, that the prohibition law of Iowa may not be strictly enforced in the river towns of the state, but this every one will concede that it has decreased drunkenness, and crime resulting from drunkenness, in a striking manner, and that it is the best law for that purpose that Iowa can possibly have. No local option or high license law can do for temperance and morality in that state what the present law has done, and why then attempt to disturb it? To repeal it would simply let down the bar for the encroachment of laws not nearly so effective, and the consequences would be damaging to the state.

Here is a good platform for all temperance people to stand upon: Where there is prohibition let it remain and enforce it as best you can. Where you can't get prohibition get something, whether it be high license or local option.

The Milwaukee republican convention adopted these resolutions:

So far as the so-called "Bennett law" may be considered as involving the rights of the state to make and enforce suitable legislation to secure compulsory education, including the requirement of reading and writing in the language of the country, it has our cordial assent and approbation.

We affirm the natural and inherent right of the parent to the selection of the school in which his child shall be educated, and any provisions of this law which are at variance with this principle we believe to be against sound public policy, and an infringement of the traditions touching personal liberty and the rights of conscience, in which our people have been educated, and to which they solemnly adhere.

We therefore believe that this law should be amended, or a new law enacted, in accordance with the principles herein set forth.

There are some very queer things in that last resolution. Suppose a republican convention should adopt resolutions endorsing the record and the principles of the party in laudatory terms, and then at the tail end should resolve that a new party should be organized which would reflect the principles of the party it had been eulogizing, how would that sound? A little funny or a good deal?

FATAL WRECK AT NASHVILLE.

Two Men Killed in a Passenger and Freight Train Collision.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 25.—The Northbound cannon-ball train on the Louisville & Nashville railroad ran into a misplaced switch at Linck's depot, this city, at 10:25 yesterday morning, wrecking several freight cars and killing Alexander Stevenson and Benjamin Daley, both colored.

The freight cars were hurled across College street, striking the two waiting women, in which were a large number of women and children. No one was seriously injured, however. The coroner's jury is investigating the case, but there is no doubt that the switch was accidentally left open.

DROPPED DEAD IN THE PULPIT.

Sudden Death of the Rev. B. F. Shinn at Norris city, Ill.

CARMI, Ill., March 25.—The Rev. B. F. Shinn, pastor of the Congregational church at Norris City, dropped dead in his pulpit Sunday night while preaching to his congregation. The exercises of the evening were the closing of the annual meeting of the Southern Illinois Congregational association and were attended by many ministers and laymen from abroad. The sad event cast a deep gloom over the community, where the aged pastor was highly esteemed.

JUMPED AND LOST HIS LIFE.

Henry Deming Killed in a Hotel Fire at Kearney, Neb.

OMAHA, Neb., March 25.—The Midway hotel at Kearney burned about 8 o'clock yesterday morning, and one of the guests, Henry Deming, a theatrical man, lost his life by jumping from a fourth-story window. The hotel was originally built at a cost of $60,000. Recently an annex was built at a cost of $40,000 and this had been occupied only about thirty days. The fire was one of the handsomest and best equipped in the state. The total loss is estimated at $150,000, fully insured.

Costly Fire at Lansing.

LANSING, Mich., March 25.—The botanical laboratory at the agricultural college burned yesterday morning. Most of the valuable collections and apparatus were saved by the students. The laboratory was built in 1881 at a cost of $6,000. The Wheeler herbarium, purchased a few months ago by the college, was lost, as was Dr. Palmer's collection. The total loss, aggregate $10,000. The fire was caused by a defective chimney.

Saved Others but Died Himself.

HARRIS, N. S., March 25.—An epidemic of diphtheria has swept over Burin, Newfoundland. There is no doctor in the district, and the sufferers were attended by Rev. Father Walsh, who with his own hands cleared the throats of the victims. Of forty cases the priest attended only one proved fatal. The priest took the disease himself and died after a few days' illness.

Victory for Mrs. Rawson.

CHICAGO, March 25.—The sentence of sixty days in jail for contempt of court imposed on Mrs. Meckle L. Rawson by Judge Jamieson, has been set aside by the Appellate court on the ground of irregularity. Mrs. Rawson served one half-day of the sentence and was then released pending the Appellate court's action.

Three Killed by a Falling House.

GUTHRIE, I. T., March 25.—A severe wind storm prevailed throughout Oklahoma last night, doing considerable damage to the unsubstantial dwellings of new settlers. Word was received here that Rube Johnson, his wife and one child were killed by the falling timbers of their house, several miles east of this city.

Duel to the Death.

RED LANDS, Cal., March 25.—P. C. McConkey, proprietor of the Windsor hotel, and Charles Gresham, an employe of the Celograph, killed each other early this morning. Jealousy is supposed to be the cause. There was no witness to the tragedy.

ROCKFORD WEBER QUARTETTE.

MYRON E. BARNES, 1st Tenor.

CHARLES G. ROGERS, 2nd Tenor.

L. JUDSON WEST, Baritone.

HENRY D. ANDREW, Bass.

This Celebrated Quartette has filled some of the most flattering engagements ever offered to any similar organization; among them are the following: The celebrated Blaine meetings, held during the last campaign at Battery D, Chicago; the musical meetings held by the Chicago Commercial Club at Madison Street Theatre. This Quartette was also the guests of the Commercial Club to and from Washington. They also received a personal invitation to a private reception at the White House from President Harrison. Since that time the Quartette has visited Washington with the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar of Chicago and Illinois; and while there sang at the reception of the Illinois Knights, given by Mrs. John A. Logan.

The following letter speaks for itself:

CALVERT PLACE, WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 15, 1889.

My Dear Mr. West:—I am indebted to you for giving me an opportunity of expressing my thanks to the Weber Quartette for the honor they did me by singing for me on the occasion of my reception to the "Knights Templar." My only regret is that I could not have had more opportunity to hear these long and excellent voices.

Every one was delighted with their fine voices and exquisite rendition of Kjerulf's "Last Night." I am still being asked who they were, and am gratified by the compliments paid them, because they are Illinoisans. At some future time I hope to welcome them to my home again. Please make my compliments to each of the quartette.

Very truly yours, JAS. JOHN A. LOGAN.

NEW YORK BY GASLIGHT.

What is Seen from the Top of a High

Building at Night.

Few in this great city know the beauty of the night, as seen from the top of a lofty building, such as the Equitable building, on lower Broadway, says the New York

Evening Sun.

On a clear, cloudless evening while the city is yet awake, the aspect is grand and imposing. In any direction in which the eye may turn can be seen a kaleidoscopic and fantastic array of gas and electric lights, which twinkle in the distance like giant fires in fields of gloomy buildings. Overhead, stars blink and twinkle, and from the streets far below issue a not un-musical clatter of horses' feet.

The prettiest view of that of the Jewett tower from a high place, along which thousands of red, white, and green lights, which seem to form the outline of whatever the imagination creates.

Liberty's light in the harbor and the beacons far below flash incessantly their warnings to mariners, and over the South Brooklyn there seems to be a forest of restless white lights.

In either river silent and puffing craft creep in devious paths from one shore to the other. Their signal lights glow with a peculiar brightness and flash long, weird shadows on the inky waters. On the big Bridge the lights dash and flutter, forming a golden-bordered necklace on the throat of the city. Uptown the lights of the streets flash heavenward, and an occasional glowing spark, Columbia Heights form a crescent of golden color in the city of Churches, and along the Willamsburg shore is a string of electric diamonds glittering in the black of night.

"MAMMA, MAY I KISS IT?"

A Case of Love at First Sight in a Car.

She is just the sweetest child that ever was born. She has Titian red hair and ivory skin and blue eyes, and when she grows up she will make the men stand around her. Her mother took her in the car one day, says the New York Journal, and she dropped her eyes on a young man who sat opposite her. The small boy fell at her glance, not with that furtive look at her and an uneasy movement that marks a man when he has been hit by a girl in the eye, but with a look and a smile

like to because he thinks everybody will notice.

The small boy simply gazed at the beautiful child, and after a little hesitation he walked over boldly and put into her hand a lovely stick of candy.

A boy must have been smitten when he did that. A man may be foolish and give away candy to a girl, but he is not much smitten after all, but when a boy gives up his candy he is a clean gone.

The small beauty took it and gave him a smile which made him palpably happy. There was no mistaking the satisfaction. The child held the candy in his hand, and he said to himself:

"Mamma, may I eat this candy?"

"No, dear; it isn't pretty to eat candy on a car."

Lord Arlington's Daughter at the Opera house to-night by the May Bretonne Company. They consider this their best piece.

Florence Camp No. 366, Modern Woodmen of America, assemble in regular, semi-monthly meeting this evening—lodge room in the Court Street M. E. church block.

The high wind yesterday was too much for the flag on the armory. It was at half mast in honor of General Crook, but the rope broke and the wind nearly carried it away.

Mr. D. H. Rust, of the firm of Rust, Jameson & Barst, has sold his interest in the Janesville business to Mr. O. S. Graves of Footville. Mr. Rust is now a resident of Rockford.

The Women's Suffrage Association will meet in Mrs. Hawes' parlors Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. All members of the society will be expected to be prepared with a current event to be given before the lesson. The ladies are just taking up United States history and any ladies interested in the study are cordially invited to be present.

The Presbyterian Social which was to have taken place on Friday of this week is postponed until further notice. The annual meeting of the Ladies Aid Society for the election of officers, reading reports and other important business will be held on Friday afternoon at two o'clock with Mrs. William Blair, South Jackson street. It is hoped all members and those interested in the work of the society will be present.

The Century for April will contain a timely article on "The Slave-Trade in the Congo Basin," by one of Stanley's pioneer officers, Mr. E. J. Glave. Mr. Glave was with Stanley in 1883, and writes from personal observation during a period of twenty months. This paper is occupied with the chapters on native life, the effect of slavery, the modes of torture, and the method of capturing slaves. The article is illustrated with drawings by Kemble, after sketches from life by Mr. Glave, and also with drawings by Otto Baer from weapons, musical instruments, and shields.

Mr. R. D. Phelps, of De Pere, Wis., is in the city, visiting relatives and friends. Mr. Phelps is on his way home from an extended trip to the Pacific coast, and is the first visit to his old Janesville home in seventeen years.

JUDGE W. P. SWIFT.

An Unjust Report Telegraphed from His Home at Chippewa Falls.

Some days ago the Gazette with many other papers in Wisconsin, published a report concerning the manner in which Judge Swift, of Chippewa Falls, had kept his record books. Judge Swift was formerly a resident of Rock county, and the Gazette is now pleased to publish the following explanation, believing that the publication of the first report was an injustice to the judge.

RICE LAKE, Wis., March 9.—Your Chippewa Falls correspondent in Thursday's issue, under the caption of "Books in Bad Shape," either intentionally or otherwise did Judge W. P. Swift a gross wrong. The facts in the case are as follows: When he was elected and qualified he found that his predecessor had practically made no entries in the books during the last four years he was county judge. These records Judge Swift had in a great measure to transcribe in order to properly administer probate matter depending thereon. Judge Swift aided thirteen new books to the office, making it one of the most complete in the state. When his term of office expired his minute work, the most important of the set, was written to date. When the county board of supervisors was in session last January, the committee on county records, the leading spirit of which committee was a personal and political enemy to Judge Swift, made a report censuring him for not having his books written up to date, although he was employed at that time in doing the work. The board knowing the annals of the attack upon Judge Swift, refused to receive the report by a vote of fifteen to eight, and referred it back to the committee with instructions to eliminate from the records all reference to Judge Swift. The report was made for the purpose of affecting Judge Swift's political standing in the county. Judge Swift's books are complete to date, as can be shown by the affidavits of county officers.

THE OFFICIAL REPORTS.

The Reports Being Incorrect Their Publication Now is a Little Premature.

The publication of the annual reports of City Attorney Doe, Street Commissioner Brown, and Chief Engineer Blank in the Recorder this morning was a little premature, in that the reports are not correct, the committee having already found discrepancies amounting to upwards of $1,200. The publication also shows several bad errors in footing up the columns of figures, calculated to convey a wrong impression. This may have been the fault of the proof reader, or of the person transcribing the reports. The committee has a laborious task before them, and desire that the reports when published be correct. Therefore, their publication at this time is unauthorized and misleading. The Gazette desires that all tax payers be informed of the detailed expenses of the city government as they actually are, and will therefore withhold their publication until the committee completes the examination, rather than give them to the public for electioneering purposes in an imperfect form. In counting dollars and cents, a man's political ambition should not be considered.

THE HORTICULTURISTS.

The Institute in Session at the Council Chamber.

There was a very small attendance at the institute of the local horticultural society this morning in the council chamber. Mr. Geo. J. Kellogg presided, and Mr. M. S. Kellogg acted as secretary in place of Mr. Helmstedt who is absent in Madison.

A paper on "Grapes," by F. S. Lawrence, followed by a discussion, and a paper by J. C. Plumb on "Evergreens," and a "free-for-all" discussion "Blackberries, raspberries and currants," comprised the work of the morning session.

This afternoon there is a better attendance, and the programme as published in last evening's Gazette is being very closely followed. The institute will close this evening. Among the interesting topics for this evening's session is that of "Shade trees," which will be handled by Hon. Alex. Graham, of this city. The meeting is open to the general public.

FRANK D. KIMBALL.

Janesville, March 24th, 1890.

NO QUORUM LAST NIGHT.

Only Five of the Ten Aldermen Answered to the Roll Call.

There was no meeting of the common council last evening, only Aldermen Baker, Hanthorn, Horn, Jackson and Rowe being present at the roll call, and the meeting was declared adjourned for want of a quorum.

THAT COSTLY METAL.

The Ornamentation of the New Singer Sewing Machines.

Did you read in the Gazette last evening about the costly metal called "aluminum"? If not, you ought to read it now, and then go to the Singer office, 15 North Main street, and see that rare metal as ornamentation on the new Singer machines. It is handsome. With that and a great many other superior points the Singer has no equal to-day.

Pearl's soap is the purest and best soap ever made.

Pearl's soap secures a beautiful complexion.

THE REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES.

A Ticket of First Class Men for City Officers.

The Gazette is pleased to say a good word for the men placed in nomination by the republicans for the various city and ward offices.

Michael Murphy, whose name stands at the head of the ticket as the man who enjoys the confidence of both political parties, will succeed himself in the office of city treasurer. Mr. Murphy has been custodian of the city funds during the past four years. He has faithfully discharged the duties, and his uniform courtesy has won for him the highest regard. His recommendation is a compliment to his ability and integrity. That he will continue to enjoy the confidence of the people is conceded by all who know him.

Theodore W. Goldin, for city attorney, is a good nomination. He is a member of the law firm of Dan-widie & Goldin, and combines with superior executive ability, a knowledge of law that qualifies him to fill acceptably the office of city attorney. His republicanism is unquestioned, and his election will be a credit to the republican party.

Charles L. Valentine, the candidate for school commissioner—at-large, is so well and favorably known that comment is unnecessary. He possesses the intelligence and ability that peculiarly qualifies him for the duties of this important office, and his election should not be a matter of doubt. Of all branches of our city government, the school board is the most important; it should be composed of men who are in hearty sympathy with the work. Mr. Valentine will make a valuable member of the board, and will render the city efficient service.

The office of street commissioner is also important and in presenting the name of

Geo. Hanthorn, the republican party realize that he is well qualified for the place. Mr. Hanthorn is an old resident of the county and has made many friends in the city since taking up his residence here four years ago. He is a property owner, identified with the business interests of the city, and well qualified to discharge the duties of street commissioner. Vote for Geo. Hanthorn.

The names of John Nichols is also well and favorably known, and his nomination for justice of the peace should insure his election. Mr. Nichols is an old resident of the city, his knowledge of law is unquestioned, as is his fidelity to the republican party. He will make a good justice, and should be elected by a large majority.

The list of ward candidates will bear close inspection. It represents a class of men well qualified to fill the various offices to which they have been nominated. Every republican should vote the straight ticket, and the result will be a victory throughout the city.

A NEW SYSTEM.

Smith & Gateley to Use Ice Tickets During the Coming Summer.

Messrs. Smith & Gateley have inaugurated a new system for the ice trade this summer with the butchers, saloons, etc. They will use, after April first, a system of tickets the same as a milk wagon. The tickets will be for 50 pounds, 100 pounds and 200 pounds. If a merchant wants 50 pounds of ice he gives the driver a 50 pound ticket and receives his ice. In this way a merchant can get the exact amount desired.

They have also made arrangements whereby the consumers can buy their ice by the month instead of by the season. Ice can be taken for as many months as a consumer desires. The tickets will be for sale at the wagon or at the office. According to the price list published in another column, prices have not been materially affected by the same. This system of monthly payments and tickets have been used in Chicago and other cities for some time.

Give Them a Thorough Trial.

Hon. E. A. Moore, Member of Assembly, Richmond County, N. Y., writes: ASSEMBLY CHAMBER, ALBANY, N. Y., April 11, 1887.

I have two afflictions which sometimes make life a burden. One is dyspepsia, the other is rheumatism. I heard that BRANDRETH'S PILLS, taken once or twice at night on an empty stomach, would cure rheumatism pains. I gave them a thorough trial for three weeks, taking one or two every night. To my delight, not only was I cured of rheumatism, but dyspepsia, constipation, and biliousness. They did not interfere with my diet or business, and I really think them an incomparable blood purifier and cathartic.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS purify the blood, stimulate the liver, strengthen the kidneys, regulate the bowels. They were introduced in the United States in 1835, and have steadily increased in popular favor.

This, together with convincing testimonials from all parts of the world, is positive evidence of their value.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS are purely vegetable, absolutely harmless, and safe to take at any time.

Sold in every drug and medicine store, either plain or sugar-coated.

THE WEATHER.

Rain—Warmer Tuesday Morning—Winds shifting to Northwesterly and Colder by Wednesday Morning.

At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 38 degrees above zero. Cloudy with southwest wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 43 degrees above zero. Cloudy with southwest wind. For the corresponding hours one year ago the register was 32 degrees above zero. Cloudy with southwest wind. At 43 degrees above zero.

An Independent Candidate.

To the Electors of the City of Janesville:

During my term of office as street commissioner I have worked faithfully for the interests of the city of Janesville and deemed myself entitled to a re-nomination at the hands of the republican party. A majority of the delegation to the city convention, it seems, thought differently, and discarded me. I do not regard their action, however, as a popular expression, and therefore announce myself as an independent candidate for the office of street commissioner, and respectfully ask for your support and suffrage.

Dated March 12th, 1890.

JOHN BROWN.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is on the flood tide of popularity, which position it has reached by its own intrinsic merit.

THE GLEE AND BANJO CLUB.

They Play and Sing at the Congregational Church Last Night.

The Beloit College Glee and Banjo Clubs appeared at the Congregational church last evening. The club consists of twenty young men all of whom attend Beloit college. The Banjo club consists of six members, four of whom play tango and two guitars. The Glee club is comprised of thirteen young men. The Owl Club, another organization and a quartette, also rendered some fine music.

The programme opened with a song by the Glee club, "To the Brave" which was well rendered, their voices blending nicely.

The Banjo Club came next with "The Forest Forge." They were loudly applauded and received an encore.

The quartette then sang "The Kerry Dances" and received an encore.

The Glee and Banjo clubs made their appearance together this time, the Banjo club playing the accompaniment for the Glee club. They received loud and long applause, but did not return. "Summer Idyl Waltz" by the Banjo club, was the next number on the programme. It was a very pretty piece and well played.

The Glee club came next with the song, "A Capital Ship," which received an encore.

The Glee club came next with "Mazurka." The club consists of four guitars, and they made some very nice music.

Part second opened with "Jack and Jill" by the Glee club. This song, though rather old, was well sung.

A serenade by the "Owl Club" was next, and liberally applauded.

"The British Patrol," by the Banjo club, was the last instrumental piece on the programme. They received an encore.

"Mary's Lamb," by the Glee club, was next, and received an encore.

The quartette then sang "Break, Break, Break" in a very pleasing manner.

A selection by the Banjo Club was well received.

The two clubs then sang the Carmen, Beloit, the Glee Club singing and the Banjo Club playing the accompaniment. The entertainment was very satisfactory to the larger number. There was a very good house but the ushers were from Beloit and did not know the church very well. They were also short of programmes—one programme had to do for two people.

THE MAY BRETONNE CO.

They Play to a Good House at Lippin's Hall Last Night.

Last evening the May Bretonne Company made their initial appearance before a Janesville audience. The play was "Mercury's Marriage" and was presented to a full house. It was a well written piece and very nicely presented.

Miss May Bretonne was in the title role ably supported by Mr. E. O. Hallam.

The star is good, well supported and the whole company take their parts well. It is by far the best company that has appeared here at popular prices.

To-night they play "Lord Arlington's Daughter," and should have a full house.

THE FURNITURE FACTORY.

A Committee Appointed to Canvass the City for Subscription for Stock.

The meeting of citizens last evening at the rooms of the Business Men's Association for the purpose of taking action relating to the proposed new furniture factory in this city, was fairly well attended and considerable interest taken in the enterprise.

President U. S. Jackson, of the Business Men's Association, presided, and Mr. W. H. Ashcraft was elected secretary.

In calling the meeting to order President Jackson stated the object of the meeting to be to take action on the proposition of M. Hanson & Co. to organize a stock company for the purpose of manufacturing furniture, the capital stock to be $30,000 in shares of $50.
